PROHIBITION OFFICIALS STAGE INVESTIGATIONS HERE

Elections, rumors of war, the situation in the Far East, foot ball, and all other absorbing topics had to take a back seat in the city yesterday, when it became known that prohibition officers had visited a number of Paris business houses and made two arrests as a result of their investigations. Such news creates more excitement in Paris than would the resumption of the great world war.

F. G. Fields, B. F. Unthank and W. C. White, prohibition enforcement officials from the Lexington office, accompanied by Hayes Green, of Barbourville, came to Paris yesterday morning, and equipped with search warrants, visited a number of places on Main street, searching the premises thoroughly and inspecting soft drinks at several places. Their search was unrewarded and fruitless, as all the places visited showed clean bills and free from suspicion.

Extending their field of operations the officials under authority of their warrants, arrested Edward Herrin, of Paris, as he was entering the First National Bank building, and, it was alleged, after a search, found a half-pint of moonshine on his person. Going to Herrin's room in the Dow building, they instituted a search, and finally found a copper still, with a capacity of thirty gallons, in operation, with about a gallon of moonshine newly-made. The still was warm when found. The officials destroyed the still and confiscated the liquor. Shortly after this they placed Joe Frakes, of Paris, under arrest, on a charge of interfering with officers in the discharge of their duty, alleging that he had attempted to "tip off" their visit to Herrin and others.

PARIS CITY SCHOOL NOTES

Misses Zerelda Nolan and Lula Blakey, English teachers in the Paris High School, will attend the conference of English teachers in Chattanooga, November 30. December 1 and 2. This is the National Council of Teachers of English, and it is the first time it has met in the South.

Miss Ellen Blanding, supervisor of Music in the Paris City Schools, was notified this week that she had been appointed a member of the State Advisory Committee of Kentucky for the National Music Association of America. The next meeting will be held in April, 1923, in Cleveland, Ohio, and will be one of the most important musical meetings held in America next year. Miss Blanding's chief duties as a member of the committee will be to bring before the meeting some of the musical conditions and needs of Kentucky.

One of the most important and attractive evening classes to be organized in Paris this winter will be a class started Monday night, November 13. This class will be taught by Mr. Horace Miller Clay, of the University of Kentucky. Last year Mr. Clay conducted an evening class in Paris in shop mathematics and mechanical drawing. This year his subject will be vocational mathematics and applied electricity. The courses are planned for men who have not had the advantage of college courses in electrical engineering, but who wish to obtain some practical knowledge of electrical engineering. The mathematics is taught in connection with electricity, so that the student may better grasp the subject.

The courses in applied electricity comprises the fundamental laws of electricity and magnetism a. c. and d. c. dynamos and motor power transportation, lightning, wiring transformers and storage batteries. The above is presented in such a way as to be understood by the average practical mind. They will be both enjoyable and beneficial and larger enrollment is expected.

The Extension Courses in Hygiene and Shakespeare will not meet to-morrow, Saturday, November 11, on account of the Armistice Day celebration, but will meet on Saturday, November 18, as usual.

And yet, there may be days when even a skunk can't lay up a scent.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION HERE TO-MORROW

Armistice Day, that day of sorrow, and yet of joys and tender memories marking the close of a great world war, and the roll call of thousands of heroes who gave up their lives in defense of the world's freedom, will be appropriately celebrated in this city to-morrow, as it will be in thousands of other places, with appropriate ceremonies.

One of the chief features of the program will be the dedication of the Memorial Building, at the corner of High street and Broadway, and the unveiling of a bronze tablet, on which is inscribed the names of those patriotic Bourbon county boys who died in defense of "liberty, justice and peace." This tablet was placed in position on the wall on the Broadway side of the building Tuesday by Mr. F. S. Hagan, a world-war veteran, and Mr. Frank Thomas, of the Murphy & Thomas Monument Co., of Paris. It is a beautiful specimen of the bronze founders art, of a neat and chaste design, surmounted by a bronze eagle, holding a scroll in his talons.

Judge George Batterton, chairman of the Committee on Arrangements, and composed of Miss Lucy Blythe Simms, Mrs. Wm. O. Hinton and Prof. Lee Kirkpatrick, assisted by representatives from the various patriotic and civil organizations of the county, will assist in the ceremonies. The principal address will be delivered by Attorney W. C. G. Hobbs, of Lexington, an orator of great eloquence.

Representatives from the American Legion Posts of neighboring towns will be present and take part in the ceremonies. At the close of the program a lunch of sandwiches, coffee and pie will be served to the Legion boys, in the Memorial Building, by the members of the D. A. R., the U. D. of C. and the Bourbon County War Mothers.

The line of march to-morrow will form at the Seventh street entrance of the Paris High School, at 10:30 o'clock, and will be as follows:

Police Department; Fire Department; City Officials; County Officials; Boy Scouts, with their band, leading a chorus of Paris City School children, Floats, Senior Class, By-The-Wayside Historical Club, representing the "Big Four" in France, with "Peace" towering over their seats; Float, by the Junior By-The-Wayside-Historical Club, representing the signing of the New Declaration of Independence in 1919; Cincinnati Band; Bourbon Post, American Legion, and delegations from Legion Posts from other towns.

The parade will proceed down Seventh street to Main, to Broadway, where the following program will be carried out: Prayer, Rev. O. B. Crockett; Raising of the colors over the Memorial Building by Bourbon Post, American Legion, with military honors; music; address by W. C. G. Hobbs, of Lexington; unveiling of bronze tablet to the memory of the Bourbon county boys who gave their lives in the world war, by Commander T. S. Smylie, of Bourbon Post, American Legion, who will place a laurel wreath at its base; benediction by Rev. Walter S. Cain.

In furtherance of the aims and objects of Armistice Day Mayor E. B. January has issued the following proclamation, calling on the people of Paris to join in observance of the day in the proper spirit:

To the Citizens of Paris, Ky.—Greetings: Armistice Day is and should be to all who love their country, who honor valor, who cherish noble deeds and purifying sacrifices a holy, sacred day.

I therefore call upon every citizen of this city to observe this day; to join with the ex-service men and women of this city, with the American Legion and the society of foreign wars and to assist in any way in the ceremonies commemorating the services of Bourbon county soldiers and sailors and to vow allegiances and fealty to the great principles that gave our country birth; that has preserved it, and with the support of its patriotic sons and daughters will assure the future greatness of the country and will bring glory to the republic.

E. B. JANUARY,
Mayor.

Kentuckians are called upon to join with the men and women who served in the World War to commemorate the services of Kentucky's soldiers and sailors in a proclamation issued by Governor Morrow. The proclamation follows:

"To the People of Kentucky, Greeting:
"Armistice Day is, and should be to all who love their country, who honor valor, who cherish noble deeds and purifying sacrifices, a holy, sacred day. This day marked

COURT NEWS

Rev. William Dunson, colored, former pastor of the colored Baptist church, of Millersburg, has filed a suit in the Bourbon Circuit Court, through his attorney, Raymond Connell, against the Trustees of the church, for the unpaid portion of his salary, amounting to $250, and for breach of contract. In his petition he claims he was dismissed from the pastorate without just cause, and that he has been unable to secure another position, all of which was damaging to his financial prospects and his pride in the sum of $250, as asked for.

Mrs. Lula S. Howard, of Bourbon county, filed suit in the Circuit Court against Frederick A. Wallis, of New York, who owns two large bluegrass farms in Bourbon county, for the sum of $338.58, alleged to be due her as share of a crop of tobacco raised on the shares. She alleged that she had a verbal agreement with Mr. Wallis to raise the crop on a fifty-fifty basis; that Mr. Wallis sold the tobacco to the Burley Tobacco Association for $1,117.16, making Mr. Wallis' indebtedness to her $558.58, subject to credit amounting to $170.00, leaving the balance, $338.58.

In the Fayette Circuit Court at Lexington, Joseph and Sam Houston, former Bourbon county farmers, defendants in a $500 damage suit filed by Clarence Lebus, were given a verdict for $717.97, by the jury. In his suit Lebus claimed the defendants unlawfully detained three hundred sacks of wheat during the 1920 threshing season. The judgment carries interest on the total amount from 1920 until it is paid and directs that the defendants' costs be paid by the plaintiff.

DECLARES ARMISTICE DAY LEGAL HOLIDAY

Armistice Day, Saturday, November 11, has been declared a State holiday by Governor Edwin P. Morrow, in a statement issued at Somerset, where he had gone to vote.

"The purpose of the Armistice Day proclamation," Governor Morrow said, "was to set apart the day as a legal holiday and I call upon all Kentuckians to observe the day as such."

Bankers throughout the State raised the question as to whether Armistice Day was to be observed as a legal holiday.

for the world the close of its most titanic struggle and brought us as a nation peace with a glorious victory. To heroes dead and our heroes living, and to those who sacrificed the very heart, the soul of their soul, and the core of their great love, this day is dedicated.

"It is a day of remembering, a day of recalling services rendered and sacrifices made, a day of resolving that the dead shall never be forgotten and the living shall ever be honored. It is a day to rekindle the fires of patriotism, to trim the torch of our national conscience and to highly resolve that what was won for us in blood and tears shall not be lost to us through sloth and easy living.

"I, therefore, call upon every citizen of the commonwealth to observe this day, to join with the ex-service men and women of the country with the American Legion and the Society of Foreign Wars, and to assist in every way in the ceremonies commemorating the services of Kentucky's soldiers and sailors, and to vow allegiance and fealty to the great principles that gave our country birth, that has preserved it, and with the support of its patriotic sons and daughters, will assure the future greatness of the country and bring new glory to the republic."

TUESDAY'S ELECTION

The election in Bourbon county Tuesday was one of the least interesting held in many years, due to the apathy of voters. There was no opposition to J. Campbell Cantrill, Democratic candidate for re-election as Congressman from the Seventh Congressional District. No interest was taken in the election, and no effort was made to get voters to the polls. Out of a total vote of 5,000 in the county, with three precincts missing out of the thirty-five, only 532 votes were cast. The three missing precincts will add but a few votes. In Rudles Mills precinct No. 3 not a vote was cast. For members of the Paris Board of Education, A. B. Hancock received 302 votes, S. S. Ardery, Jr., 300, and Dr. Raymond R. McMillan, 302.

Miss Eleanor Lytle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omar G. Lytle, has the distinction of being the first woman election officer in Bourbon county, she serving in that capacity Tuesday at the Court House voting booth.

LOSES VALUABLE DOG

"Jeanne VanGronigan," a valuable police dog, belonging to James Clay Ward, of this city, and registered in the American Kennel Club, was run over by an automobile at the corner of Fifteenth and High streets, sustaining injuries that caused death. At the time of the accident the dog was accompanying Mrs. Ward. The identity of the person driving the auto was not learned. The animal was the dam of a fine dog, "Laddie," now owned by A. B. Hancock, in this city. Five of her pups sold for $265.

THE GRIDIRON FIELD

Full of confidence, inspired by their recent victory over the Newport team in last Friday's gridiron battle, the Paris High School warriors will leave this morning for Somerset, where they hope to take the scalp of the Pulaski boys. Paris Hi will take with them a bunch of rooters, who will help to bolster the huskies up to the winning point. Somerset, though the home of the redoubtable "Red" Roberts, of the Center College team, still boasts of several other good players and Paris Hi realizes that a hard struggle is ahead of their for the afternoon, but "Carry on" is to be the word.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS NEXT WEDNESDAY

The hunting season opens next Wednesday, and every son-of-a-gun who can get hold of a dog, a gun and a hunting license, will be out in the fields bombarding quail and rabbits, with more or less good luck.

Those who intend to hunt should not fail to provide themselves with a hunting license, and have it with them at all times in the field. They must also remember that the bag limit is twelve quail per day, instead of fifteen, as erroneously published recently. The limit on rabbits is fifteen per day, and no more, to each hunter.

Many lands have been "posted" and the consent of the landowner, or the farmer who is occupying the land must be secured, before hunting.

Game Warden A. W. Bullock, with the earnest co-operation and assistance of the Bourbon County Game and Fish Club, will be on the job at all times, and it would be well for everyone to know that these conscientious sportsmen will use every effort to apprehend and convict all violators of the game laws, irrespective of their station in life.
